

CM61

Microphone-Delegate Unit

Features

- Fully digital-control design
- Powered by system Control Unit. The output voltage is a safety voltage
- The unit is provided with a 1.5m 8P connection line, used for “cross” type line connection
- The condenser microphone with a replaceable windproof cover
- Elongated microphone neck available
- Microphone head with a red ring indicator displaying the speech status
- With a speech switch key and indicator on the front panel of base
- With 8-pins socket and RJ-45 socket for connecting with the host

Description

CM61 is a delegate unit microphone, and is usually used together with its chairman unit CM60. They are perfect for conference room application.